

Extending LEGO Serious Play (LSP) with Aligned to Achieve (A2A)

Play the Game. Align the Team. Achieve Together.

What is A2A?

Aligned to Achieve (A2A) is a serious-play, card-based strategy and alignment platform that helps teams turn insights into action.

Used alongside LEGO Serious Play, A2A takes the thinking surfaced in the workshop and converts it into aligned strategic priorities, ownership and delivery plans with shared buy-in.

How it works

Teams play A2A by selecting cards that represent strategies, enablers, and activities most critical to their goals. Through discussion and consolidation, groups identify priorities and blockers, then receive a concise, actionable report that captures agreed outcomes.

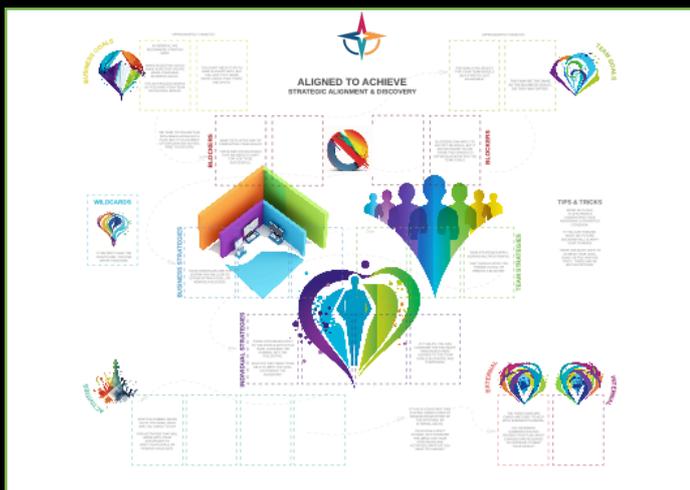

Why A2A works well after LEGO Serious Play

Used alongside LEGO Serious Play, A2A takes the thinking surfaced in the workshop and converts it into aligned strategic priorities, ownership and delivery plans with shared buy-in.

By using the output from LSP, you can:

- translate insight into strategic priorities
- clarify what is misaligned
- agree on ownership and next actions
- create a shared view of what needs to change
- reinforce alignment beyond the workshop with actionable reports

The A2A Experience

Collaborative Goal Setting: Define clear, actionable objectives.

Blocker Identification: Uncover and eliminate what's holding your teams back.

Impact Analysis: Understand how key business drivers affect your goals.

Activity Planning: Define concrete steps to achieve objectives and overcome blockers.

Team Alignment: Ensure everyone understands their role to achieve the bigger picture.

Real-world results for facilitators

Facilitators use A2A to extend LEGO Serious Play into a repeatable Phase 2 that turns insight into shared priorities, clear ownership and visible next steps, creating an ongoing rhythm of alignment that deepens client impact and relationships.

Find out more at aligned2achieve.com